TRS FURNITURE

Why choose TRS Furniture

- ◆ Frames are made from kiln-dried maple, since maple is a hard, tight grained wood.
- ◆ All seats are made with eight way hand tied construction, for maximum strength.
- ◆ Springs are all insulated with cotton to prevent noise.
- ◆ All seams are sewn so that the fabric pattern matches.
- ◆ Solid brass nailheads are individually applied by hand.

New Design Resource !

Interior Designer Kelee Katillac has created and embraced a new philosophy on design. Her "House of Belief" philosophy is one of interior transformation for the home and the soul. This affirmative decorating process allows kids and adults to literally "see evidence" of their potential in life. Kelee Katillac's new book Kids' Sacred Places shows kids and adults how to build their own sacred place at home, where they can be free of peer pressure, family issues, bullies at school or low self-esteem. The book goes through the steps on how to teach your child to transform themselves, by transforming their rooms. Every child feels creative when they are born, but through negativity seen on television and at school, they start to lose some of their inner artist. "House of Belief" is a way around this, by creating a sanctuary of their own, children can face the world with confidence in themselves even when life challenges them with bullies or a parent's divorce. Please visit www.kidssacredplaces.com to find out more about this special book.
